Regulatory Hosting
RQC Hosting

The costs required to obtain your own FCA authorisation can be a lengthy and costly process. Our RQC Hosting regulatory platform allows businesses to operate under our regulatory license, providing you with a turnkey solution, so you can focus on managing and marketing your business.

Benefits

The process of becoming FCA-regulated takes an exceptional amount of commitment, time and resources, especially if the firm starting up is small and limited in resources. The preparation of the documents that need to be submitted to the FCA can average three months, with additional time waiting for the FCA to process the application.

Therefore many firms manage this transition on a regulatory platform while they wait for their FCA authorisation, or so they can commence their business and build a track record.

Our Hosting regulatory platform

If you would like to undertake discretionary investment management or wish to outsource your requirements under AIFMD, our Hosting regulatory platform can offer a solution to your investment management requirements.

Key individuals can be seconded onto our platform to enable the use of our regulatory permissions. We will second the individual and then act as the investment manager to your fund or managed account for AIFM Hosting services.

RQC Hosting can act as the AIFM to the fund, while delegating the trading and portfolio management function to you and RQC Hosting will remain the AIFM, with AIFMD compliance covered by us.

The value of partnership

Our primary focus is to provide you with pragmatic and comprehensive regulatory support. In addition, as a professional services firm solely focused on the compliance and operational arena, we are committed to consistently providing an institutional level platform and excellent customer service.

Working with your team, our dedicated and experienced experts will deliver the most strategic and appropriate compliance guidance and supervision to help you build your business.
